BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

Carlos Bozzoli is an Argentinian art professor and architect who specializes in the study of 20th century architecture. Bozzoli created the architectural guides in this collection when he was a visiting professor at Marshall University's Drinko Academy from 2002 to 2008 with the help of the Academy's then-president, Dr. Alan Gould. During his time as the Drinko Visiting Scholar, Bozzoli also taught a course, Architecture and People: The Cultural Habitat, with Dr. Beverly Marchant from the art department. In his native Argentina, Bozzoli worked to help preserve and restore buildings, such as the St. John's Cathedral, built in 1826.¹

SCOPE AND CONTENT OF COLLECTION

This collection consists of various editions of architectural guides to buildings and homes in Cabell County, WV, with special attention paid to the Marshall University Campus. These guides offer walking or driving tours of the areas, and are divided by sections in Huntington and by city/area (Barboursville, Milton, Guyandotte & Greenbottom). The guides are intended to acquaint visitors to the area with its architectural history and to inspire those who live in the area to more fully appreciate their surroundings. These are all rough, uncompleted drafts of the guides, and edits and corrections can be found on many pages. Digital copies of the Huntington, Barboursville, Milton, and Guyandotte & Greenbottom guides can also be found on the Marshall University Special Collections website.
